Death of a Prominent Indian.

The Coffeyville (Kansas) Courier of the 17th instant contains an account of the murder of Isaac Journeycake, vulgarly called Johnnyeake, a prominent Delaware Indian, who formerly lived with his tribe in the Diminished Delaware Reserve, in Wyandotte county, Kansas, near the Leavenworth county line. He was an educated and energetic man, universally respected for his ability and integrity.

We extract the following items:
Last Saturday afternoon, Isaac Journeycake, a prominent Delaware
at Lightning Creek, thirty miles south of the city, was murdered while riding peacefully along the road on his way home from a neighbor's house,
by one Calvin Coker, a half-breed Cherokee. Coker and some friends had been drinking, it seems, and seeing Journeycake, accompanied by Daniel Anderson, a colored man, going by, got on their horses and met them.
Coker told Mr. J. to ride outside of the road, as he wished to speak to him.
Journeycake replied that if he had anything to say, he could ride along the road and say it. Coker then struck at him with a revolver and shot him in the back of the head and at the same time took hold of him and fired one shot, but missed his aim. Both men fell from their horses, and as Journeycake attempted to rise up, Coker fired again, striking his victim
in the breast and killing him instantly. The weapon was held so close to the ill-fated man that a large hole was burnt in his vest. Coker then turned to the negro and said, "Daniel Anderson, I will fix you in some way soon," and Anderson started on the run. Coker then mounted his horse and disappeared.

This man Coker is said to be a hard case, having some years ago killed a man named Charles Hicks, and made himself obnoxious generally for some time. His wife is a Delaware Indian, and it is said his hatred for Mr. Journeycake grew out of a refusal of the Delaware Council to allow him to draw his wife's annuity without the necessary order.

Isaac Journeycake was born in the year 1810, and was consequently 55 years old. He has, by his honorable conduct, endeared himself to every member of his tribe, and at the time of his death enjoyed the confidence and esteem of all who knew him. He was a member of the Delaware Council and has been for many years the official tribal interpreter.

At last accounts the murderer had not been captured, though a posse of about 40 men were in pursuit and were determined to capture him and make him pay the penalty he so richly deserves.

San Diego Items.
[From the World, 30th inst.]
The Semi-Tropical Farmer at Los Angeles, is a pronounced paper, and interesting to farmers and fruit growers.

There is any bottom to the Republican party Geo. C. Gorham found it in his famous speech.—Southern California.

And the Democracy propose to kick
the little he found out of the country on the 1st of Sept.

The Lower California burro train of twenty or twenty-five animals was in town this morning, browsing around on dry sand, waiting for their packs to be fastened on them. These burros are so fat that they don't give a cent if corn were worth a dollar a bushel, so long as they could get it.

Our Angora goats that were eating the elegant new hay of Fred B. Lowell, departed for Guadalupe the other morning, on a schooner. They were expected earlier, but the schooner drawing as much water as a Wilmington crane got into Newport and could not cross the bar there for a day or two. Good place for the government to plant half a million!

following advance list of U. S. Patents granted to Pacific Coast inventors, viz:

mento, Cal., and B. E. Hunt, San

tion metal.

The late Judge Crocker did not leave a will, but the settlement of his estate was seriously ill about two years ago, by his executing a trust deed to his brother Charles. It gives to Mrs. Crocker half of the estate, and also, we believe, the residence, etc., the remainder of the property, with the exception of a few minor bequests, being divided among the children.

A Card.
As I will shortly remove from the well known Cigar Store, next to Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express, I take this opportunity to offer my entire stock of cigars, tobacco, pipes and smokers' articles, contained at the stand, at cost price. Any one buying a box of cigars will get them at the manufacturers' price, as the stock must be closed out in a very short time. I do not wish to remove any of it to the store, identical at 33, Main street, as the stock of cigars, tobacco, pipes, furnishing goods is already large enough to supply all the wants of the public. The business, after the removal, will be carried on at 33, Main street, where I hope that all those who have so far favored me with their custom, will put up with the inconvenience of walking a block further, as the quality of the goods will amply reward them for the trouble.
J. GOLDSMITH,
33 and 107 Main St.
$500 Reward.
S. Nordlinger, the Jeweler, on Commercial street, offers the above reward to any parties who can prove that he does not keep the finest and largest stock of Watches, Diamonds and Jewelry in this town. He would also inform the public at large that he does not keep any plated or cheap jewelry in his house. He also will sell further on 4 oz. silver watches, Waltham Watches at $30; 14 karat gold Gents' Chains at $10 a pennyweight; Watch Crystals at 25 cts. each. In fact, he will sell 25 per cent. cheaper than any other house in this town. For further information call at his store, No. 3 Commercial street, and examine his fine stock of goods.

Borrowing Money.
Borrowing money upon the installment plan is attended with these advantages: The loan is repaid in small monthly amounts, which include the interest and part of the principal, so that by the expiration of the term it can be all paid without any great inconvenience to the borrower; the rate of interest is generally lower; the expenses of obtaining the money are not so great as in ordinary loans, and if it is borrowed upon good paying property then it often happens that the rate will meet the monthly installments and in time pay off the debt.
For further and other particulars enquire of
W. H. J. BROOKS,
Agent for Savings and Loan Society,
101 S. 12 Street.
Educational.
On Monday, June 7th, at the Spring street school house, Mrs. F. A. Parker will open a school for a term of seven weeks, term to close one week before the re-opening of the public schools. Tuition for the term—For Third reader and all below, $4; $5 for all above the Third reader. For further particulars enquire of Dr. Lucky, City Superintendent of Schools. Jns12

Los Angeles Herald.
SATURDAY, JULY 3, 1875.
THE daily press of the State so far as received cordially endorses the Democratic ticket. It seems to be a ticket wisely made as to fitness and ability. The candidates of the Democratic party this year are men of the people, and, if elected, they will hold the people's interests as higher than all other considerations.
The Prismatic.
In the Council on Tuesday night, Mr. Leahy moved to declare the charter of the San Pedro street railway forfeited, and the Council under his leadership voted unquestioningly with him. The vote seemed to be against a supposititious prismatic railway, though it is really a blow against the comfort of the people who would be accommodated by the road. The people care nothing about the manner of their railroad, but they do want rapid and convenient transit, and one rail will do, so it is not a fence rail. The prospect of having about fifteen miles of prismatic railway was flattering until the Council made this insane war on the system. The prospect of the employment of a vast number of men seems to be no argument with these gentlemen. The enhanced value of real estate in the suburbs is overlooked and they are engaged in making a Quixotic war on a prismatic windmill, while their constituents walk home instead of having this democratic conveyance.
Santa Monica in 1880.
The following is an extract from an editorial published in the Santa Monica Herald on the 5th of July, 1880: The celebration of the 104th anniversary of American Independence yesterday, was the grandest occasion Santa Monica has ever witnessed. We have seen the grand reception given to King Albert Edward, of England, on his arrival in the Great Eastern in our beautiful bay; we witnessed the enthusiasm on the occasion of President Grant's inauguration of this as the Summer capital for the third time; we remember the triumphant return of Senator Jones from his visit to the Empress of Russia and Germany, but all these sank into insignificance before yesterday's celebration. The ancient triumphal entries of CAESAR into Rome could only approach it in magnitude and splendor, though in point of actual outlay, ours far exceeded the Roman fete. This is the more remarkable, as CAESAR had a conquered world to draw upon, while Senator JONES merely contributed the profits of a little venture in Wall street, New York, in which Commodore DREW, DANIEL GOULD and JAY VANDERBILT were conquered. The census which has been just taken, shows a population of 125,000, and every citizen felt that he was rejoicing over our youthful but wonderful city, as well as celebrating the nation's birth. In this spirit of holy joy, the day and evening passed. In the afternoon President BABCOCK and Assistant President BABCOCK, accompanied by the foreign minister's visited Senator JONES, and presented their congratulations on the triumph of his idea. Lord DUFFERIN, the British Minister, presented a cable congratulation from King ALBERT EDWARD, while Prince VON HAMERSLOUGH handed the Senator an autograph letter from Bismarck himself. The Russian Emperor charged Prince METERNICH with a special message to the Senator, which had been delivered earlier in the day. In the evening the JONES monument was illuminated by means of electricity. Far out in the bay, this shaft of light 440 feet high was a welcome beacon to the steamers seeking our capacious harbor. President GRANT's castle, on Federal Hill, was surrounded by vast crowds listening to the White House band of one hundred and eleven pieces, while the representative of the Viceroy of Egypt had a magnificent ballet troupe dancing in his orange grove; under the glare of a thousand jets of electric light, thrown from his Summer fountains. The festivities continued until a late hour, and it rejoices us to be able to announce that there was no accident, though the steam fire engines were steamed up and the central reservoir had 10,000,000 gallons of water ready to extinguish the slightest conflagration. But, we desire to warn our readers to beware in this their day of triumph. Our success has prompted others to establish cities along the coast, which they vainly hope will eclipse our commercial importance and diminish our swelling population. In fact, the alarming feature of people abandoning the mines and farms and flocking to these cities, stares us in the face. Mining, sheep-raising and agriculture are neglected, and the interior is fast relapsing into a desert. This is a wrong state of affairs, and we trust these misguided people will listen to reason, return to their deserted ranches and mines, thus restoring the proper equilibrium of the commercial, agricultural and mining interests. We hope no federal legislation will be needed to prevent this disastrous building up of cities on the coast where commerce does not demand them. In conclusion, let them consider that there can only be one Santa Monica, as there is only one JONES. He has shown his genius in building up an immense city on a barren coast, and while we bow down to his commercial success, we believe greater triumphs await him in the political arena. We dislike to tell State secrets, but believe that President GRANT prefers Senator JONES as his successor—unless he runs for a fourth term.
LETTER FROM SANTA ANA.
Improvements at Santa Ana—Hotel Wanted—Good Crops—General Prospects—The Railroad Outlook.
EDITOR HERALD: Since writing our last, various and sundry changes have taken place here. Mr. Spurgeon has moved into his new store and displays to the public a large and his numerous customers in particular, the finest assortment of general merchandise ever seen in Santa Ana. Gran. says he gets "powerful work" waiting on customers. Mr. Conrad's house is nearly ready for occupancy. Doctors Cummings and Antribus each have erected an office. Mr. Wilkins is building an addition to his house. There are several persons who contemplate building soon, one of the number being Mr. Conrad, from Anaheim, who, we have been informed, contemplates building a fine two-story house, to be used as a lodging house in connection with Mr. Gursen's restaurant. Such a house will do well, as so many strangers are coming here who find no place to stop. Mr. Faulkner's house is constantly full. We have been greatly astonished that some enterprising man who is loaning money at one and one-half per cent. per month does not purchase Mr. Palmer's house and open it as a hotel. The building is well adapted for that purpose and can be purchased for much less than it cost to build it. Twenty-seven hundred dollars will buy the house with three lots, each fifty feet by one hundred and twenty-five. This is much less than the house can be built for. Mr. P. owns quite an amount of land adjoining town and expects soon to build a hotel—consequently the great bargain.
CROPS ARE LOOKING FINELY.
Throughout the valley. We have been informed by reliable persons that the corn crop will exceed any previous year. We took a drive through the "Swamp" yesterday, and were greatly surprised to see the number of acres in corn. A few days since Mr. Cobler, from your city, was here and took a drive through the "Swamp," and on his return he expressed his surprise that such a country could be found so close to Los Angeles. Mr. Editor, if you will send "Observer" down here we think we can make a convert out of him, and to such an extent that he will bring off his friends and relatives here—unless it be his wife. It has been a question admitting of a doubt as to our ability to raise wheat here, but the present season has settled that beyond cavil. Our wheat crop is splendid, and we have heard good practical farmers say that as fine wheat could be produced here as at any point in the State. If our friends from the grasshopper-chinch-bug-army-worm country could see our property, we don't think they would want to "go home to die."
We propose laying claim to the future great
"CITY BY THE SEA,"
And that city will extend from here to Newport Bay. We have no U. S. Senators, but we have any amount of good sturdy citizens, who in due time will build a railroad from here to the bay, where as fine landing as is to be found upon this coast can be made. We don't all the people, but shall come in for our share, and have the Long Branch of the Pacific Coast at Newport.
Santa Ana, July 1, 1875.
Trout Fishing.
TO THE CITY FATHERS: Know ye that we have one of the finest fish ponds that could be imagined, and it must be alive with fish, so much so that when people irrigate from the ditch of the Canal and Reservoir Company numbers of fine, fat, beautiful trout swim down and strand themselves in the fields. Only yesterday I saw a boy with a string of fish that would make a fry-pan laugh—trout from 4 to 8 inches long that he had fished out of a small pool in one of the irrigating ditches. Now if you venerate fathers would order a screen put over the mouth of the canal, under the ducts the water from the reservoir, you would save the lives of many fishes and make glad the hearts of future fishermen.
KING FISHER.
Squirrels.
We understand the County Grange yesterday was discussing the squirrel question. The following editorial on that subject is from the San Francisco Post: The squirrel nuisance is one of the worst pests of California farmers, and various means have been tried for their extermination. The latest plan, and one which seems feasible, is proposed by Judge Lindley, of Los Angeles. He has prepared the draft of a bill to be presented to the consideration of the Patrons of Husbandry. The bill makes each school district a squirrel district, and provides for the appointment of a squirrel master. A tax to defray the expenses contemplated in the bill is authorized to be levied in each squirrel district, and all able bodied men are required to turn out six days in the year for the purpose of making systematic war upon the rodents. The assembly days are appointed for the last Saturdays in October, November, December, January, February and March. A fine of $5 is imposed on those who fail to turn out when summoned by the squirrel master. Judge Lindley submits this bill to the Grangers as a starter for intelligent legislation on this important subject, and asks them to use their organized influence in securing relief from those pests.
The San Francisco Post, the great organ of temperance, admires Gen. Bidwell's bold stand on that lay, and says:
There is one thing about Bidwell that does command admiration—his manly stand on the temperance question. Believing that liquor is a bad thing, he will have nothing to do with it; turns his wine into vinegar, tears up his vines to cultivate raisins, and the wholesale liquor dealer is as bad as the retailer.

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.
YESTERDAY'S PROCEEDINGS.
The Progress of the Work.
SAN FRANCISCO, July 2d.—It was ten minutes to 11 when the Convention was called to order to-day.
Owing to the difficulty heretofore experienced in collecting assessments from the candidates, a resolution was adopted that no further nominations be entertained until the assessments were paid.
Nominations for Clerk of the Supreme Court being in order, the following gentlemen were placed in nomination:
D. C. Branch of Stanislaus, W. R. Hinchson of Stanislaus, Lands W. Forman of San Francisco, E. B. Woolf of San Francisco.
The nominations closed on the call of the roll.
Before the vote was announced a member of votes were changed to Woolf, making the ballot stand: Branch, 103; Hinchson, 15; Forman, 32; Woolf, 188.
Woolf was declared the nominee of the Convention and the nomination was made unanimous.
A motion to pay the Sergeants-at-Arms $5 extra for each night of the session, gave rise to a long discussion on the financial question, after which the Convention proceeded to nominate a candidate for Superintendent of Public Instruction. Rev. O. P. Fitzgerald was nominated by acclamation. He addressed the Convention briefly in a humorous strain, and also said, if elected, he should endeavor to change the practice of repeated examination of teachers, and introduce other reforms.
A resolution was adopted to strike out such portions of the seventh plank in the platform as state that the Constitutional Amendments are to be submitted to the people at the next election, such not being a fact, as the amendments go to the next Legislature.
Pending the selection of a State Central Committee, the Convention took a recess of one hour.
Lynch Law.
LITTLE ROCK, June 29th.—John Hogan (colored) was hanged yesterday by vigilantes for attempting to get in bed with two white girls, with the intention of committing rape.
OTTUMWA, Iowa, June 28th.—A cold-blooded murder occurred here last night. One of the Smith boys of Batavia, a noted desperado, while being taken to prison, shot Deputy City Marshal W. Logan, instantly killing him. He was locked up and threats to lynch him were made, which caused this afternoon when, after his preliminary examination, 500 citizens took him from the hands of the officers and hanged him to a lamp-post in daylight, in presence of thousands of spectators.

We had a call on Thursday from Mr. John E. Tipton, proprietor of the Heartsese House, at Duarte. From his description the climate must be delightful and we are firmly impressed with the idea that we will soon pay him a visit and see for ourselves.

This afternoon take your children to see and hear the Sauret troupe. No child can fail to enjoy such music. In the evening, for your wife or young lady friend, attend Turn-Vereul Hall in person. If you have any music in your soul, you will be delighted.

If we occasionally publish an item like one appearing in the Schoolmaster without credit, we hope Dr. Luckey will excuse us. We find items in the Schoolmaster frequently that are just as good as if we had spent time writing them, and his paper saves considerable trouble.

delighted with the assurance of a residence in our genial clime and rapidly developing country. He goes to our sister city with the best wishes of many valued friends.

We had the pleasure of meeting last night our old friend John Wilson, one of the best posted circus managers in the United States. Lips. At a meeting of the Board yesterday, Mr. Simpkins was elected President of the Company and Superintendent of the works. Mr. S. is an old Californian, and for the past eighteen years he has been specially engaged in establishing gas and water works. Under his direction the gas works of Marysville, and Nevada City, Yuba City, and a number of other towns in the Pacific Coast were successfully established.

Jackey's Circus.

An immense crowd visited Jackey's circus last night and went away delighted. The tent is large and comfortable and attentive ushers show the audience to their seats in the politest manner. Good order is strictly maintained and the programme is choice and chaste. The trained horses are the best, perhaps, in the world; the riders are graceful and daring; the acrobats and gymnasts are models of strength and agility; the clowns are the real humorists, and the band furnishes choice music. The performance was an admirable one, and the audience expressed the heartiest satisfaction. This afternoon and evening there will be performances with an entire change of programme, and on Monday they again appear. We recommend our citizens who like the sports of the arena to attend, as they may never see their like again.

San Fernando.

In Senator MacKay's well written letter to the San Jose Patriot, we find the following tribute to San Fernando: San Fernando is going ahead better than I expected. We shall have in the valley 50,000 bushels of wheat, a large amount of hay, and considerable barley, besides corn, potatoes and vegetables of every description. We have land to rent for wheat, barley and oats, requiring no irrigation, and the crops, if the weather is good, will be a fine crop. Those who rent can have the privilege of buying after one or two years. Our wheat, dry as the year is, will average 20 bushels per acre. Can any county around here beat it. The time has come when we have 700 men at work, and we expect to be in connection with you in sixteen months. I am now, as I always have been, in favor of railroads. No country is worth a continental without them.

Election of Teachers.

At their last meeting the Board of Education of this city elected teachers for the new classes and to fill the vacancies caused by the resignation of Misses Casad and Russell and Mr. Smith. There were 25 applications for situations.

After carefully reading the recommendations of the candidates and considering their qualifications and experience, the following named persons were selected by the unanimous vote of the Board: Miss Clara G. Du Bois, Miss Dora L. Thurston, Miss Ella Hall, Miss M. Allie Prescott, Miss Mary L. Dame, Mrs. Marion Miller and Mr. Russell Ready. At a previous meeting Mrs. C. Loe Jones was elected and assigned to one part of the First Division of the Grammar Department. Miss Hamilton was assigned to Miss Casad's class; Miss Luckey to Miss Hamilton's class; Miss Porter to the school near the Woolen Mill; Miss Du Bois to Miss Luckey's class (her former position); Miss Barrett to Miss Russell's class; Miss Hall to the school in East Los Angeles; Miss Prescott to Miss Porter's class; Miss Dame to the school near the corner of Washington and Figueroa streets; Mrs. Miller to the school in Northeast Los Angeles, and Mr. Ready to the Bath-street school.

LETTER ON THE INDIANA COLONY.

A Pleasant Drive—Charming Views.
The Indiana Colony—The Government of Land—The Government of Water—General Crops—Intelligent and Educated Settlers—An Interesting Letter.

A drive of one hour from Los Angeles through the Arroyo Seco, past Sycamore Grove and Live Oak Park, brings us to the Indiana Colony. This colony has been in existence since a short time (only about fifteen months) and the work of the settlers has been so quietly accomplished that but few outside of Los Angeles have any knowledge of it at all. The situation of the colony is one of great beauty. It is on a table land that stretches about five miles from the base of the Sierra Madre Mountains, westerly to the Arroyo Seco and southerly to the San Gabriel and the Monte country. The elevation is about eight hundred feet above Los Angeles, and the location is such that from every point the views are charming. On the North and East lies the grand Sierra Madre, stretching upward over three thousand feet above the plateau. Huge enough and grim enough it is to satisfy all our search for greatness in nature. If it were in Switzerland or Italy, its grandeur would have been looted again and again. With us it is but one among the many great and we scarcely know of its presence. Beyond the Sierra Madre are seen the three loftier peaks of the Cacamongo Mountain; and a hundred miles away and further South, stand the snow-crowned sentinels of the great interior country, Mts. San Bernardino and San Geronimo. On the Southeast and South we have all the delightful view of the San Gabriel valley, with a modest mountain ridge for a background. On the West is the

ARROYO SECO

And the Verdugo ridge. Those who have followed the Arroyo only to the picnic grounds can have no idea of what they miss by not searching out its real beauties. The Arroyo is seco below the colony only. For four or five miles from the mountain it contains a stream of the purest and sweetest mountain water. Along this stream are beautiful groves of sycamores and willows, balm of gileads and wild cherry, and the air is cool and moist and cool and beautiful. Numbers of glens, caves, grottoes, cozy little nooks of all kinds, invite to pleasant repose and meditation. The little folks of the colony have in one spot cleared out all the underbrush and prepared a place for their plays. They have nicely lettered an inscription on a large paper card, "Welcome to the Palace Royal," and right royal it is. Surely, no king could wish for drapery finer than the ferns and vines, for a fountain brighter than the sweet stream, nor music sweeter than its murmur. If any citizen of Los Angeles, tortured with the heat and dust, wishes to regale himself with these beauties, he can do so very easily, as it will only take about three or four hours to make the trip.

THE COLONY

Was started and has been maintained as a "fruit growers' ranch." There are about thirty settlers, each occupying from fifteen to one hundred and eighty acres of land. The divided lands of the company embrace only two-fifths of the original tract. The "undivided lands" are controlled by a Board of Directors, who are elected by the members of the colony. The cultivated land is a sandy loam, mixed with decomposed granite. It is very rich and easily worked. Not a particle of alkali has yet been found on the tract. There was but very little frost last Winter, and then only when the very heaviest frosts were felt in the valleys. No finer orchard and vineyard land is to be found anywhere. The land is rolling and many of the vineyards are planted on the hill slopes. One large one is planted on a slope that cannot be more than twenty-five degrees from the perpendicular.

PURE WATER.

The tract is abundantly supplied with pure water of the Arroyo. The water is conducted by pipes from the foot of the mountains to large reservoirs in the colony. From these large mains branch off and carry to every part of the settlement. For family use the water is supplied by hydrants. The pressure is considerable, and with a little care all can have fine fountains. The convenient and abundant supply of this delicious mountain water is certainly one of the most desirable features of a residence in the colony. Some idea of the work accomplished here may be gained from the number of already set out. There are about six thousand orange trees, one thousand lemons, and two hundred thousand vines. The grapes are nearly all of the raisin varieties, though the number given above includes an abundant supply of many choice varieties for family use. There is no disposition to raise grapes for wine making purposes, as nearly all of the colonists are of the belief that "wine is a mocker." Among other fruits of which attention is given, are figs, apples, pears, apricots, prunes and peaches; of which enough are grown for home consumption, and some for market when they come into profit. There are also between four and five thousand chestnut and walnut trees, that are growing well.

TREES AND VINES

FIELD CROPS.

The ordinary crops are not neglected. Corn, melons, potatoes, beans, etc., being raised in abundance. It is safe to say that no part of Los Angeles county is receiving more careful culture than the lands of the Indiana Colony. The work being done is for the future, and it is being done by men who know what they are about. They have brought with them money, thrift and culture, and with these means they are building up a community that will be the pride of the country. It is not every one that can secure a home with them, as they are united in the purpose of giving welcome only to those whose antecedents prove them worthy of it; and they will not sell their lands unless satisfied that the purchaser has interests similar to their own and that he will be a congenial neighbor. One point insisted on, is that the income shall be a fruit grower. Other lines are not so sharply drawn, but the distinctions made are such as to do credit.

NO CHURCH BUILDING.

There is no church building in the colony, though at present the question of building a church is being agitated. It will probably be of the Presbyterian denomination. A school in operation, is taught by Miss Clapp, formerly of Los Angeles. Colonies like the Indiana, Westminster and Orange, are the hope of the future of California. The steady thrift, clear-sightedness and careful culture of the North and East, insure the permanence of their prosperity, and their example will have influence as far as their visitors are scattered. Pasadena, June 29, 1874.

A social entertainment of the Congregational Society will be given at the house of J. D. Barrows, San Pedro street, near First, Monday evening, July 5. All are cordially invited.

For the very best of wines, liquors and cigars, go to the Bon Ton Saloon, No. 17 Main street, Signorelli's new building, kept by Myers & Pumphrey. A billiard table in connection with the saloon and all the advantages of a first class establishment. Jy3 1w
